The background of the entire image is a high-angle photograph of a rugged, light-colored rock cliff. The cliff face is textured with various cracks and crevices. To the left, the dark blue ocean is visible with white foam from breaking waves. In the foreground, two round, tufted outdoor chairs are positioned on the rock. The chair on the left is light-colored with a green braided trim and a blue and white zigzag patterned cushion. The chair on the right is dark grey with a white braided trim and a white and grey patterned cushion. Long shadows are cast by the chairs onto the rock surface.
